

SOCIETY

The Country club has been the only wide-awake place in town the past week; it is the favorite resort this hot weather. Young people drive there early in the morning for an energetic game of tennis, and girls often take their sewing to the club piazza, and remain for lunch. Many motorists make the hill their destination in the evening, and simply sit on the porch, enjoying the breeze which sometimes blows exclusively for people on the hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Capper and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis are entertaining at dinner this evening on the club piazza. Mrs. Capper's guests include: Mr. and Mrs. George Crawford, Miss Dottie Curtis, Dr. W. N. West, Mr. Eugene Quinton, and Mr. George Chase of St. Louis, who is visiting in town. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have invited: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Frost, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Mohler, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Woodward.

The weekly dinner dance is taking place tonight, and one is reasonably certain to find among those present: Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Akers, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Auerbach, Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wear, Mr. and Mrs. E. Thrill, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gault, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McIntock, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walker, Miss Permelia Curtis, Miss Helen Louise Crosby, Miss Dorothy Porter, Miss Elizabeth Holli-day, Miss Grace Koonz, Miss Leona Curtis, Miss Marguerite Koonz, Mr. John Hamilton, Mr. Alfred Bartel, Mr. Irwin Slattinger, Mr. Bill Collinson, Mr. Clarence Jordan, Mr. Wallace Pettijohn, and Mr. Allen McNeal.

An exquisitely dainty lingerie costume, in which flit lace binding is combined with embroidered voile, appears above. The peasant blouse has a bolero of the plain voile edged with pendant crocheted balls, and enlarged by square embroidered tabs of the voile. A wide flat collar with three deep points, one in the center of the back finishes the neck which is composed of the flit lace and a band of the voile. Crocheted balls finish the edge. The skirt has a plain center panel with sides and back, consisting of three flounces of the embroidered voile running to a point in the back. These are finished with the scalloped square tabs and are without fullness, falling over an inserted band of the lace which follows the line of the flounce.

Topeka people who had been planning to spend the weekend at Lakeview were disappointed this morning by the news that there is not a cottage, a room, or a cot to be had. The success of the club is phenomenal, and every room is engaged in advance. There is so much of healthful interest, and the breeze over the lake is so refreshing that the club is unusual. The weather is the month of July. The secretary at Lakeview reports flocks of people from Kansas City, Lawrence, Topeka, and smaller towns. Among those from Topeka are: Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Barber, Miss Dorothy Barber, Miss Hester Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seery, Miss Emily Seery, Miss Ruth Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. W. W. Wilkidal, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edson, Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crane, Miss Dorothy Crane, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whelan, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Gresser, and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Ferry.

Miss Carolyn B. Whittlesey is giving a small private recital this evening at her studio, 167 West Sixth street. There are only twelve names on the program, and the selections will be brief.

Another resort, popular because it is cool, is the swimming tank at the Y. W. C. A. The lower floor of the association is entirely devoted to the swimmers at present—there are marble baths, adjustable showers, ventilated lockers, and the white tiled tank, graduated from two to six feet, is the scene of many a merry revel. Friday morning is the popular bathing hour, and the pool is usually seething with rolicking young people. Among them are many little and graceful swimmers. Miss Loretta Powell, who has charge of the bathing at present, is an expert, and accomplishes the Australian crawl, the dead man's float and the American side stroke in a masterly manner. Miss Gertrude McIntock, who sails Tuesday for Liverpool, is also an enthusiast. Among others often seen at the pool are: Mrs. Albert T. Reid, Mrs. W. W. Wilkidal, Miss Gussie Godard, Miss Edna Hopkins, Miss Gladys Scott, Miss Ruth Foster, Miss Gladys Gawn, Miss Daisy Monroe, Miss Mary Glend, Miss Hazel Howe, Miss Ruth Kaster, Miss Edna Thompson, Miss Hazelle Loveland, Miss Mary MacLennan, Miss Kathryn

Albaugh, Miss Marie Cope, Miss Miriam Foster, Miss Dorothy Overmeyer, Miss Freda Betts, Miss Helen Crawford, Miss Dorothy Wilson, Miss Lucille Mills, Miss Mildred Morton, Miss Edith Thompson, Miss Elizabeth Hopkins, Miss Ruth Larimer, Miss Ernestine Klein, Miss Nellie Belt, Miss Jean Lindsay, Miss Elizabeth Culver, Miss Dorothy Parkhurst and Miss Helen Koonz.

The hours excluding Thursday, when the water is changed, and Monday morning, are from 9:30 to 11:30 in the morning; from 2:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon, and from 7 until 9 in the evening.

Miss Louise Fairchild entertained today in honor of her guest, Miss Beulah Murphy of Lawrence. The affair was an informal nuptial luncheon, and covers were laid for ten.

There is one Topeka girl, who, forgetful of the hot weather, is plunging enthusiastically into a most interesting work. It is Miss Louise Culver, who is spending the summer in Illinois at the Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy. The work in Chicago is a rather strenuous summer pastime, for there are two hours of lecturing in the morning and two hours of field work in the afternoon. The lectures are made by the most famous humanitarian professors of the country; one is Miss Jane Addams of Hull House fame. Part of Miss Culver's summer work takes her through Gall Court, the most notoriously corrupt street in the city—long, narrow, and hideously dirty; she sees the children in the block, and the number of murders committed weekly is three. The street is so crowded with toddling youngsters and decrepit human beings that traffic is rendered almost impossible.

Miss Culver is having numerous social pleasures, nevertheless, week-end parties, sightseeing expeditions, drives and picnics of all kinds. She expects to complete her course at Washburn, and will return to Topeka to enter college in the fall.

Miss Miriam Foster entertained the Girls' Guild of the Methodist church Friday afternoon at her home, 713 Topeka avenue. There are about fifty girls in the guild, and at least half of them were present. Miss Foster is president of the guild.

The New Thought society will meet Sunday, July 14, at the home of Mrs. Lucia O. Case, 1300 West Tenth avenue, at 8 o'clock. Mr. E. Ingerham of Kansas City, who will be at the Case home for ten days or two weeks, is to make an informal address. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

The Phi Theta Phi fraternity gave a dancing party Friday evening in the pavilion at Garfield park.

Miss Alice Nielson will open the Parkhurst Concert Series Tuesday, October 15, when she will sing from 4 to 6 at the opera house. Winter before last Miss Nielson was a member of the Boston Opera company, and charmed many an audience by her exquisite Elsa and stately Marguerite. Miss Nielson is tall, slim, and fair, and has an ethereal expression at variance with the sense of humor shown in the following story. It is said she once sang at a soiree given by the Duchess of Manchester for the late King Edward. While Tosti was playing the prelude to "Goodbye to Summer," the king turned to a friend and made some remark that caused a flash of temper to be seen before she sang. With eyes dancing, and a wonderful daring she audibly hummed the lines, "Hush!—then an ominous pause—'tis a voice the royal guest took the refrain and gallantly, and led the low laugh at his own expense.

The pupils of Mrs. Antoinette Smith will give a musical recital Friday evening, July 19, in the Assembly hall of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Smith will be assisted by Miss Edith Strickler, and an interesting program has been arranged.

Miss Lulu McKee is drilling half a hundred children in some exceedingly pretty folk dances to be given Tuesday evening at the fair grounds. The affair is for the benefit of the play grounds, that have been so popular with the youngsters this summer. The drills will be given on a raised platform in a spot just above the following dances: American Folk dance, adapted from Mother Goose; Shoemaker's Dance; "Washing the Clothes;" and "I See You." Miss McKee is a very capable teacher, and the entertainment promises to be full of interest.

The meeting of the Fourth ward of the Good Government club has been postponed and will not be held until Tuesday, July 22.

The introduction of the kindergarten into the public schools and the popularity of the playground work in Topeka has created such enthusiastic interest in the Froebel system of child culture that a demand has been made for a kindergarten training school, which may be established at Bethany, under the supervision of an expert trainer from the Chicago university, provided enough pupils register before the first of August.

At a meeting of the Fourth Ward Good Government club, which took place July 9 at the home of Mrs. W. E. Seeline, 306 West Eighth street, Miss Helen Eacker addressed the meeting on the following interesting subjects: Conservation of national ideals. What our country means to us. What it stands for in our eyes. What are its ideals? The perpetuation of a republican form of government. The continuation of a Christian Sabbath.

The opportunity given to each citizen for a full, free development. Liberty in the fullest, most considered sense. The world asks women to do this work, to see that these ideals are preserved. No patriotic Christian woman can refuse this service. How may she best do it? Can she when her hands are tied because of a lack of the ballot? When this, the most potent power for the
